Falcon and Stanley Drilling

Mosman Oil and Gas Limited (AIM: MSMN) the oil exploration, development, and production company, announces an update on drilling at Falcon and Stanley in Texas.

Falcon-1 (50% working interest)

Falcon-1 on the Champion Project is now being directionally drilled to penetrate two prospective target zones forecast to be between 7,400 and 7,500 feet True Vertical Depth.

9 5/8 inch casing has been run and cemented at 1,600 feet. The well will now be directionally drilled to penetrate the two target zones.

Stanley (Circa 16.5% working interest)

The recently drilled Stanley-4 well is now on production with the reported flow rate of 155 bopd.

At Stanley-1 the well was perforated and flowed strongly, however the crude oil is a waxy crude oil and there was some sand carried in the oil. The Operator has temporarily shut in the well while a sample of the oil is being analysed at a laboratory and the Operator decides what production approach is appropriate for these circumstances.
